

RELATOR®

I value genuine connections and intimacy and reach out to deepen and solidify existing relationships.

Academic Life

- Seek out professors and advisors who show interest in you and your future.
- Choose classes that allow coursework to be done in small groups.
- Join a club with active and attentive communication.

Career Goals

- Find a career in which it is important to build relationships, perhaps with clients or students.
- Relating to others will help you to learn about careers that might interest you.
- A job focused on one-on-one mentoring or counseling will be fulfilling for you.

Decision Making

- Ask those closest to you for advice when deliberating important decisions.
- Seek the wisdom of mentors and advisors who have shown genuine interest in you.
- Reach out to someone with Individualization, how can guide you toward your strengths .

Leadership Tips

- Truly knowing and understanding those around you will make you a great leader.
- Look for ways to lead small groups, like facilitating a book club.
- Find a position that allows you to mentor or counsel others.

Relationship Building

- Reach out to friends for intimate activities like lunches or hikes, no matter how busy you are.
- Ask for company when running errands and use the time to get to know someone better.
- Let your caring show by offering to listen to the stories that others might be too busy to hear.

Extracurriculars

- Take a class that teaches relationship building.
- Join a small group, like a book club, that will facilitate close friendships.
- Reserve time to bond one-on-one with those closest to you.
