

INCLUDER®

I have an accepting nature, with a capacity for making all people feel involved and valued and a sensitivity to welcome those who are left out or being judged.

Academic Life

- Join student government in order to help campus life better for all students.
- Studying other cultures and backgrounds, as well as history, will fascinate you.
- Choose classes that focus on lively discussion amongst students.

Career Goals

- Interact in person with those in jobs that interest you, to get an idea for what they do.
- Environments that provide you with a welcoming role in orientation or reception will allow you to flourish.
- Working with a marginalized group, perhaps those that are handicapped, will fulfill you.

Decision Making

- Collect the opinions of many different people before making decisions.
- Research how others have responded to the same situations.
- Reach out to the people in your life for advice and support.

Leadership Tips

- Your inclusive nature will make you a valuable leader in student groups.
- Speak out on behalf of those who are marginalized.
- Volunteer to help the underprivileged or tutor those being left behind in school.

Relationship Building

- Make friends outside of your own social or cultural circles.
- Welcome new people into your classes or work spaces, especially those others may disregard.
- Involve yourself in many different types of groups and ensure that others feel welcome there.

Extracurriculars

- Volunteer to work with a group that strives to raise up those who are underprivileged.
- Get involved with groups that include many diverse cultures and ethnicities.
- Read stories about backgrounds other than your own to feel a connection.
